our methodology

We partner with organizations to enhance leadership, well-being, resilience, and collaboration, leading to improved performance.

Our unique approach builds emotional intelligence skills by using mindfulness as a foundation to cultivate awareness which is the basis for all other emotional intelligence competencies. Especially when cultivated in this way, emotional intelligence can be highly trainable. Our assessments provide evidence that our programs lead to improvement in a broad array of skills, including ability to manage stress, increase resilience, and empathy.

All of our programs are based in cognitive and behavioral sciences and we are supported by our science advisory board of leading experts to provide the most rigorous and up-to-date research.

Live, interactive trainings, online or in person.

We believe in creating transformational, practical and accessible experiences, whether in person or online.

Our team of experts has thoughtfully designed our programs for a highly interactive and optimal learning experience that maintains the magic of being together, regardless of the format.

All of our programs are live and interactive. They all include about one-third content and two-thirds experiential activities, designed to create a sense of intimacy and connection. Programs include small breakout group conversations, guided practices, journaling, question and comment periods, and time for integration.

Search Inside Yourself worked best for us because it applied to everyone regardless of department, role and tenure. Employees wanted a training that would help them develop and grow not only in their business skills, but in their social abilities, their presentation competency and the way they connect with others in a team capacity.

Aside from people being more satisfied, I believe [SIY] can change business to consumer relationships and actual business fiscal impact." Read more.

"The team was fantastic. Their knowledge and experiences surrounding the subject matter were extraordinary. They are seasoned practitioners who embody their teachings. In addition to all the other benefits, much of the program was geared toward improving the Emotional Intelligence of our associates, which I am confident can drive business and leadership success.

I have had a great many people thank me for bringing [SIY] to Plantronics. 'A class like none other,' 'lifelong skills for both their business and personal lives,' and 'life changing' were some of the comments I received. I highly recommend this training for anyone looking to improve the way their team works together, enhance their innovative thinking and clarity, reduce stress, improve general well-being, manage difficult conversations and be generally more at peace."

Why is emotional intelligence so important and why is mindfulness the way to train it?

In a time of unprecedented levels of stress, overwhelm, and ongoing demands, it is critical for people and teams to have the tools and skills needed to meet the challenges of today's working environments. Neuroscience and behavioral research studies continue to present evidence that both mindfulness and emotional intelligence provide the skills and capacities needed to improve resilience, collaboration, individual and team performance, sustainable well-being, and effective leadership.

EMOTIONAL INTELLIGENCE

Emotional intelligence is the ability to recognize your own and other people's emotions and use this information to guide wise thinking and behavior.

Emotions are part of everyone's work life and are essential for decision-making and for connection. Emotional intelligence includes the following intrapersonal and interpersonal domains:

- Self-awareness
- Self-management
- Social awareness
- Relationship management

MINDFULNESS

Mindfulness is the ability to focus on the present moment with curiosity and openness. It's a foundational skill that underpins emotional intelligence.

Mindfulness practices train the ability to become aware of the present moment, building attention, focus, and concentration. Practicing mindfulness also helps to be more present in conversations and meetings, strengthening relationships and building empathy. An ongoing mindfulness practice results in greater clarity and calm, which helps to down-regulate threat responses, skillfully manage tasks, and improve decision-making.

Making your organization future-ready, with emotional intelligence.

Emotional intelligence and mindfulness are critical to meet the challenges and demands of today's workplace, at all levels.

Employees are experiencing high levels of stress and burnout, which requires tools to cultivate focus, calm, and well-being.

Connection, psychological safety, and inclusion are more important than ever, especially for individuals working virtually, across time zones and in cross-functional projects.

TEAM

The skills that enable resilience, empathy, diverse perspective-taking, and collaboration are needed in order to build a culture of innovation and creative thinking.

Teams need leaders with a high degree of emotional intelligence to inspire them, motivate them, and lead effectively through disruption.

ORGANIZATION

Attracting and retaining talent requires new organizational values and principles that support the needs of a changing workforce.

Accelerate the integration of two company acquisitions, manage organizational transformation while maintaining high levels of employee engagement.

"Emotional intelligence is set to become a 'must-have' skill in the next one to five years."

DAIMLER

As I reflect on what's my mission in life and what's next for me, I realize that the answer really comes from knowing myself. Being a great leader requires being a good leader of my own self first.

Thanks to mindfulness, now it's easier for me to know my leadership style and how to be the kind of leader I want to be.

Search Inside Yourself was a doorway for me to get in touch with what's at my core, with depth of awareness. And it's from there that leadership skills can flourish.
